Ten global investment banks and market making firms join BGC in the creation of FMX to launch premier U.S. Treasury and U.S. Interest Rate Futures trading marketplace

FMX closes transaction with strategic investors at a $667 million post-money equity valuation

NEW YORK – April 25, 2024 – BGC Group, Inc. (Nasdaq: BGC) today announced that Bank of America, Barclays, Citadel Securities, Citi, Goldman Sachs, J.P. Morgan, Jump Trading Group, Morgan Stanley, Tower Research Capital, and Wells Fargo have become minority equity owners of FMX, with a post-money equity valuation of $667 million. FMX combines BGC’s U.S. cash treasuries platform with its spot foreign exchange platform and U.S. interest rate futures exchange, and will leverage BGC’s proven low latency trading infrastructure and global distribution to further support liquidity in the interest rate futures market.

“We have brought together ten of the most important global investment banks and market making firms to create a premier trading venue for the interest rate markets,” said Howard W. Lutnick, Chairman and CEO of BGC Group and Chairman of FMX. “We offered ownership to this incredible investment group knowing the enormous value they bring to FMX, which will benefit all market participants.”

FMX Futures, which received CFTC approval in January, is expected to launch in September 2024. FMX’s cash U.S. Treasury platform, FMX UST (formerly known as Fenics UST), has grown its Central Limit Order Book market share each sequential quarter. FMX UST ended the first quarter 2024 at 28%, up from 26% in the fourth quarter of 2023.¹

“With support from these leading financial firms, we believe FMX will become a rapidly growing futures platform and create important efficiencies for our shared clients,” said Lou Scotto, CEO of FMX. “With our clearing partner, LCH, the largest clearer of interest rate swaps in the world, clients will receive significant portfolio-margining capabilities, creating competitive advantages across U.S. interest rate markets.”²

“LCH is excited to partner with FMX to deliver product innovation and margin savings, which will enhance the competitiveness of U.S. derivatives markets for its members,” said Isabelle Girolami, CEO of LCH Ltd.

“FMX’s unique protocols provide a fresh competitive edge across rates, FX, and futures markets,” said Geoff Weber, Head of G10 Rates Flow Trading at Citi. “The impressive growth in market share that FMX has experienced recently enhances market liquidity and positions FMX as a potential catalyst for increased competition, particularly within the futures market. This innovation not only promises to elevate market dynamics but also aims to lower costs for all market participants, signaling a forward-looking shift.”

“FMX is going to drive innovation and competition across the rates, FX and futures markets,” said Kristen Macleod, Head of Americas Macro Distribution and Co-Head of Global FX Distribution at Barclays. “As a key investor, Barclays looks forward to delivering the benefits of our investment to our clients through improved execution and competitive fees.”

Please find additional details about the FMX transaction at www.ir.bgcg.com. BGC will also provide additional information about the FMX transaction on its first quarter 2024 earnings call, scheduled for 10:00 a.m. ET on Tuesday, April 30, 2024.

WHY THE MARKET NEEDS A SECOND U.S. RATES EXCHANGE

LIQUIDITY, COMPETITION AND RESILIENCY SUPPORTS FINANCIAL STABILITY AND REDUCES SYSTEMIC RISK

ENHANCED LIQUIDITY

- Ultra-low latency execution
- Reduced transaction costs and tighter bid/ask spreads and lower exchange fees
- As market volumes grow, total market capacity will continue to increase in lockstep, including basis trading between FMX and the CME

COMPETITION

- Market participants want more competition across U.S. interest rate marketplaces
- One firm dominates all U.S. interest rate futures trading and is a market leader in cash U.S. Treasuries, resulting in annual price increases, and growing market data costs
- Lack of competition stifles innovation

MARKET RESILIENCY

- FMX will promote competition and encourage broad technological advancement
- Settlement risk dispersed among multiple institutions reduces systemic risk
- Multiple trading venues are critical in the event of business disruption to the sole incumbent
